Municipal Association of Victoria (MAV)

The Municipal Association of Victoria (MAV) was formed in 1879 and has a statutory responsibility to act as the representative voice of local government in Victoria through the establishment of the Municipal Association Act 1907.

As the peak body for local government, councils' interests and rights are represented and protected through membership of the MAV. All 79 Victorian municipal councils are eligible to be MAV members.

MAV Purpose

The purpose of the MAV is defined under the Municipal Association of Victoria Act 1907 and states:

Our history

Established in 1854 as the Melbourne Public Library, State Library Victoria is Australia's oldest public library and one of the first free public libraries in the world.

Our founders believed that access to knowledge was critical for the development of a civil and prosperous community, and created the Library as 'the people's university' – a place of learning and discovery for all Victorians. They also charged the Library with preserving Victoria's heritage by collecting items of historical and cultural significance for future generations.

These are responsibilities that remain a critical focus today. Each year we add more than 70,000 heritage items to the Library's rich collection and lead the sector with our ambitious digitisation programs. We also work hard to adapt and remain relevant to our Library users, as well as reach out to new audiences. As a result, Library patronage has continued to increase annually, both in-person and online.

Our vision

We want the Library to be a place for all in a changing world and to inspire possibilities. We want to be a cultural and heritage destination for Victorians, and a catalyst for generating new knowledge and ideas.

The State Library will make a major contribution to the continuing development of a knowledge and creativity-based economy for Victoria, and a socially and culturally rich society.

Mechanics' Institutes are the fore runners of public libraries and adult education in Australia

The Mechanics' Institute Movement began in 1799 when Dr George Birkbeck conducted a series of free lectures for the workingmen of Glasgow. The term "mechanic" at that time meant artisan or workingman. The movement spread throughout Britain and its colonies including Canada South Africa, India and Australia, as well as the United States of America.

The Movement began in Victoria with the formation of the Melbourne Athenaeum in 1839. The Institutes served as focal points for their communities, offering libraries and reading rooms, opportunities for self-education, and other attractions such as lectures, meeting rooms, museums, concerts, and various games. Institute libraries were regularly patronised up until the 1950's even though conducted on a subscription basis. The book stock varied with the finances of the Institute committee but where towns were serviced by railways, cases of books could be obtained quarterly on loan from the Melbourne Public Library.

Nearly every town in Victoria had a Mechanics' Institute. Today there are over 500 still operating as halls and homes for local organisations. A growing number of these are members of the Mechanics' Institutes of Victoria Inc. (est. 1998).

Eleven Mechanics' Institutes continue to principally offer a lending service and half a dozen have retained a significant proportion of their historical library collections.
